

CONTINUE THE STORY

Using the text on the left to help, draw what could happen as Detective Webber begins his investigation into the missing golden banana. Don't forget to include speech bubbles!

"Detective Webber! Please help!"
said Mr Bonobo.

"Don't worry, Mr Bonobo," I said.
"I'll get that banana back."

I could not waste any time. There was a mystery to solve. I took out my magnifying glass and looked at the statue. The stone paw had been cleanly cut off. Clearly, this had been done by someone who knew how to chop things up.
