Using the text on the left to help, draw what Jamie and Enid saw as they entered the monster den.
Don't forget to include speech bubbles!

Finally, the water calmed. The rocks around them cracked and groaned. Enid rowed on until the tunnel opened out.

"Just what I suspected," Enid said. "This is—"

"A monster den!" Jamie said, imagining huge sea beasts of every kind hunkering in the shadows. "I've read about these."

"Sea monsters haven't been spotted in Misty Bay for almost fifty years," said Enid, looking around excitedly. "But this is proof they were here!"
